

ACT 1

- color palette in Act 1 should seem like a normal color lighting mentioned by images with Act 1 in names i.e. from the start of the very first scene until the scene where the news of stock market crash break on TV.

ACT 2

- color palette slowly the color drains from the frames as the 2nd act progresses i.e. from the news break on TV to the scene where she steps out of the door after getting frustrated.
- Shanaya's face looks more tired as she puts herself through the stress of working longer hours.
- the dark circles under the eyes increase in shade
- hair become loose and messy
- clothes become loose
- It should seem as if it the work stress is taking a toll on her physical health.

ACT 3

- when she steps out of the door, it should seem as if she is stepping into the light from darkness mentioned by image Act2_2.jpeg
  - from here on onwards i.e. Act 3 the color palette should turn into warm yellow and green marked by images with Act3 in names.

